

January 2014

Morning all, It sure has been cold, and judging from the limited catch reports that fish think so too.

Now, to follow up on our meeting. Our guest speaker Robert Lugiawicz “Fishin Franks” gave us lots to think about during these cooler fishing times. Looks like Sheepshead and Trout and Black Drum might be the easiest to target. Sounded like hook size could be directly proportionate to your catch ratio and that frozen shrimp will work about as well as live for many species. Capt. Nevin Colver also shared with me that while he was a guide for Ralph Allen they only used frozen shrimp and had many great catches.

The hottest new bait at Fishin Franks is the DOA Savage in a variety of colors and although expensive the Yo-zuri shrimp hard bait is great.

I asked Robert to come back in May to address SHARK fishing.

After donuts and coffee expenses we have donations totaling $117.00.

Next Month’s Speaker is Capt. Cayle Willis, Bad Fish Charters guide who you may have seen helping out at Fishin Franks. He will be giving us a little insight on fishing up the harbor and the bridges.

While we talked about having an evening meeting w/ speaker and refreshments and possibly food what do you guys want to do??

Get back to me with your ideas and suggestions for meeting topics, speakers etc.

And What you are doing out there on the harbor. Send pics if you want and I’ll pass them on.

Next Meeting Feb. 11, 9:00AM at CHEC

Good Fishing
